

British participation in Erasmus+

Following the referendum result in the United Kingdom, we wish to inform you on the position of the DG Education and Culture regarding its impact on our programmes which has been published today on the Erasmus+ website.

Following the referendum result in the United Kingdom, DG Education and Culture, which is responsible for EU programmes such as Erasmus+, Creative Europe and the Marie Skłodowska-Curie actions, has received many questions from partners and participants.

According to the Treaties which the United Kingdom has ratified, EU law continues to apply to the full to and in the United Kingdom until it is no longer a Member. This therefore also applies to the projects financed through the Erasmus+ programme.

More information can be found in the document "UK Referendum on Membership of the European Union: Questions & Answers".
