General Information

AN INTRODUCTION TO MALAGA

A city with a rich historic and cultural tradition, Malaga was founded by the Phoenicians around 800 B.C. and later colonised by Iberians, Greeks, Romans, Arabs and Christians. Its privileged position on the shores of the Mediterranean, its mild climate and the friendliness of its inhabitants have all meant that the capital of the Costa del Sol has, throughout its history, sustained excellent trade and cultural relations all over the world. Nowadays, Malaga is a modern, cosmopolitan and welcoming city with over 600,000 inhabitants, which has successfully developed its commercial, industrial and tourist sectors.

WEATHER/CLOTHING

Malaga is a Mediterranean city with a very mild climate. Winter temperatures very rarely drop below 10°C and in autumn and spring the average temperature is about 20-25°C, although evenings can be a lot cooler. Average rainfall for the region is normally quite low. Nevertheless it can rain torrentially during the autumn and spring months.

SHOPPING HOURS

Normal opening hours: 10.00-14.00 and 17.00-20.30.

There are several Shopping Centres open from 10.00 to 22.00, for instance, El Corte Inglés (up market department store), Centro Larios and Málaga Plaza.

Although shops are usually closed on Sundays, there are a number of shops that might be opened in the city centre.

THE UNIVERSITY

In its more than 40 years of existence the University of Malaga has taken on a major role as both principal catalyst of the cultural life of the city and fundamental platform for future developments in the fields of technology and research.

The University of Malaga constitutes one of the three vertices of the so-called “productive triangle” of the city, together with the International Airport and the PTA or Parque Tecnológico de Andalucía (Andalusian Science and Technology Park). The latter has close ties with the University due to the constant flow of ideas, highly qualified professionals and advanced technologies.

At present the University of Malaga has two campuses, El Ejido and Teatinos, in addition to a few other buildings located in different parts of the city.

The ultimate objective of the policy of the university regarding infrastructure is to eventually have all university centres and services located on the Teatinos Campus.

Last challenge for the our institution is Andalusia Tech - International Campus of Excellence, a distinction awarded to the University of Málaga by an international and independent committee that we think makes our institution an even better destination for students, teachers and university staff and a more competitive partner in future cooperation <http://www.andaluciatech.org/en>

Travel Information and useful links

ARRIVAL IN MALAGA

For visitors arriving at the international airport “Pablo Ruiz Picasso”, there are three ways to get into town:

- ➔ A taxi costs around 25 € to get to Málaga city centre, and takes roughly 15 minutes to reach the city.
- ➔ There is a bus (line 75) into town every 25-30 minutes, one way ticket costs 1.75 €. It takes around 15 minutes. There are also buses to other destinations like Alhaurín de la Torre, Marbella and long distance coaches to Granada and Seville.
- ➔ The suburban train leaves every 20 minutes from the airport in two directions: Málaga city centre (15 minutes) and Fuengirola with several stops along Costa del Sol (45 minutes). A ticket costs between 1.40-3.50 €.
