The University of Malaga (UMA) was established as a public university in 1972. With more than 35.000 students and 2.500 lecturers, UMA offers 59 degree courses, 42 doctoral programmes, more than 50 master's degrees, and more than 80 internal degrees and 100 courses throughout the academic year. About 278 research groups are actively involved in national and international research projects, and in public-private contracts. Up to 500 research agreements and contracts are yearly signed with a variety of business and private organizations. In 2018, 31 patents have been filed, among which 12 were also protected internationally. Moreover, UMA has participated in more than 200 international research projects, mainly funded by framework programmes (FP6, FP7, H2020), but also from other programmes such as RFCS and Interreg. Specifically, UMA has participated in 23 Marie Curie actions: 5 ITN, 3 IRSES, 2 COFUND and 1 IAPP project. Currently, UMA is participating in 45 EU research projects, of which 25 are funded by H2020. They include 3 ERC Starting Grants and 8 Marie Skłodowska Curie Actions: 2 ITN, 2 IF, 3 IRSE, 1 Researchers' Night.
